

Australian Institute of Architects Voluntary Activities and CPD Points

Many members support the Institute and the profession by volunteering their time and expertise. These activities may count towards the continuing professional development (CPD) requirements of the Institute or the jurisdiction you are registered in. For specific information on how CPD operates where you are registered, visit www.architecture.com.au/CPD or your State and Territory registration board's website.

Your State and Territory may have limitations of level of activity that can be claimed. Please refer to local requirements.

Regardless of local requirements it is suggested you identify the learning you will gain from undertaking the activity, undertake a balanced range of CPD activities and consider limiting the accrual of informal points through the types of tasks listed below to two points per activity.

Activity

Participation in Institute committees and sub-committees covering issues of architectural practice (eg, Council, Practice Committee, OH&S Working Groups, , Heritage Committee, Sustainability Committee, CPD Committee) and Advisory Groups.	Informal
Mentoring students, graduates or architects	Informal
Development of and participation in Built Environment Education programs (school students)	Informal
Participation in Institute Architect Award Juries	Informal
Participation in State or National Visiting Panels to the Schools of Architecture	Informal
Acting as an Institute representative on committees and working groups covering issues of architectural practice (e.g. Institute representative on Standards Australia Committees)	Informal
Acting as an Institute Senior Counsellor	Formal
Under the NSW Architects Registration Board's policy only 5 points per annum can be claimed.
Development and revision of Acumen material, Environment Design Guide notes or other edited material covering issues of architectural practice	Formal
Under the NSW Architects Registration Board's policy only 3 points per annum can be claimed.
Writing for Institute publications covering issues of architectural practice	Formal
Under the NSW Architects Registration Board's policy only 3 points per annum can be claimed.
Preparation and revision of content for CPD programs	Formal
Under the NSW Architects Registration Board's policy only 3 points per annum can be claimed.
Delivering CPD program where content has been prepared by others (e.g. PALS)	Formal
Under the NSW Architects Registration Board's policy only 3 points per annum can be claimed.
Preparing responses to government legislation or policy	Formal
Under the NSW Architects Registration Board's policy only 3 points per annum can be claimed.	