GIL NICOL BIENNIAL AWARD

Named in honour of one of Western Australia's great architects whose work was inspired by international experiences, the Gil Nicol Biennial Award recognises a local architect who is making a significant impact on the State's built environment while in the early stages of their career.

The award was established in 2013 and as the title suggests, is available every two years. The winner receives $15,000 cash which can be used for travel, research or study associated with the discipline of architecture.
